

JAPAN TO PUT RACIAL ISSUE UP TO LEAGUE

PARIS, July 23.—Japan intends to raise the issue of racial equality at the first meeting of the League of Nations, a member of the Japanese peace mission said today.

"We have never changed our views on that point," he said. "If the United States Senate makes certain reservations affecting us we will not reply by making reservations on the racial issue, as some have suggested, but we shall certainly raise the question later."

The Japanese peace delegate said he was uneasy over the effect in Japan of the present discussion about Shantung in the United States. The Japanese, he said, would resent Senator Sherman's speech as much as Americans would resent it if a Japanese statesman had trampled on their flag.

The Japanese mission is attempting to belittle the strength of the opposition in the United States to the Shantung award, and to ascribe it entirely to politicians, he said, to prevent ill-feeling in Japan against Americans. This is becoming difficult, the Japanese diplomat admitted, and the Japanese people are inclined to believe that the whole American people are opposed to the Shantung clause.

LONDON IS NOW CROWDED TO LIMIT

LONDON, July 23.—London, the most crowded city in the world—it has a population estimated close to ten million, including the vast continual stream of visitors—is faced with the serious problem of how to relieve the hardships of its working and shopping public resulting from traffic congestion.

The world's biggest city thought it had solved the problem years ago when an American built them a subway, but now this is falling behind traffic. Not that the subway has grown less efficient. It hasn't. But only so many trains can be run, and it is impossible to run enough to handle the traffic, which overflows and crowds on to the omnibuses and the street cars. The omnibuses fail to meet the situation, and even the expected addition of a thousand more omnibuses shortly won't settle the problem. They will only serve to block other traffic.

It has been suggested that an elevated railroad be built such as Chicago, New York and Boston have. In the meantime millions of Londoners daily struggle, crowd and push for a strap or seat on any kind of a public conveyance.

Money must work to succeed. Put yours to work in War Savings Stamps.

Reports to the chaplain's office of the Second division say Chaplain Currie has been winning about 75 per cent of the matches.

LEAGUE BAD, TREATY WORSE, SAYS MOSES

In the first speech to the Senate on the peace terms with Germany, Senator Moses of New Hampshire yesterday declared:

"That the terms of the treaty are worse for the United States than the League of Nations is."

That the treaty provides so many commissions to carry out specific parts of the terms that the league is not necessary to make the peace settlement effective.

That as these commissions are not appointed by the league, but by the principal powers, there is no reason why the treaty and the league covenant should not be separated.

"League of Nations."

He listed these commissions, showing the part each will play.

"This," said Moses, "should be sufficient not only to refute the claim that the League of Nations is an indispensable instrumentality in carrying out the provisions of this treaty; but it also serves as an effective denial of President Wilson's defiant claim, made in New York on March 4, that the treaty and covenant would be so bound together that the Senate could not dissent the covenant from the treaty without destroying both."

"Bad as the league of nations is, it is by no means the worst feature of the pact which is before us. If there are those who continue to think Washington's Farewell Address a nobler document than any produced at Versailles, I counsel them to turn to the body of the treaty itself, and learn the full extent of the duties it seeks to lay upon us, the difficulties it will try to make us solve, and the inextricable thicket of difficulties in which it will thrust us."

Taking exception to President Wilson's statement that the terms square, as a whole, with the fourteen points, Moses said: "We look in vain for the elusive fourteen points. Open covenants long since took to hiding; freedom of the seas was treated with scant courtesy; establishment of equality of trade conditions among nations is nowhere found; the earlier doctrine of no annexations and no indemnities has become a tragic joke, and there remains alone, the league of nations."

"This treaty is infinitely worse for us than the league, for whatever baleful consequences will flow to the United States from the league are in the future, whereas the treaty provisions immediately and without recourse thrust us automatically into the endless snarl of attempting to set new boundaries; impose on us part of the task of keeping Germany in leash; of stifling her commercial and industrial development."

how does your cigarette begin to taste?

NOTE—This is the severest test to which you can put your cigarette.

NEARLY dinner time. You've been smoking all day. How is your cigarette appetite?

If it is tired and jaded—in other words,
unless it's as fresh, crisp and snappy as right after breakfast—you ought to look around for a different brand of cigarettes.

The right brand (when you find it) will let you feel fine and fit and smoke-hungry clear up to bed-time.

It will give you enough of the delicious flavor of Turkish tobacco—but it will be so blended as to offset the over-richness or heaviness that comes from smoking too much Turkish.

The one cigarette which today seems to be attracting most men who tire of straight Turkish is Fatima (see at left).

As soon as you are ready to look seriously into the cigarette question, put Fatimas to the 6 o'clock test.
